

Kathleen is from Chico, California, where she completed both her undergraduate and graduate degrees at California State University in Chico. She traveled Charleston to complete her internship at the Medical University of South Carolina. She has experience in renal nutrition, elderly nutrition, and home health. In Kathleen's spare time she enjoys traveling back to California to visit family, especially her two beautiful nieces. She also enjoys participating in all of the extracurricular activities Charleston has to offer.