

Sara graduated from Salem College in Winston-Salem, North Carolina and completed her internship studies in Augusta, Georgia. She received a Masters degree from Georgia State University and has been a Certified Diabetes Educator for over 20 years. She enjoys movies, reading, traveling, and exercise. In addition to her job at the VA, she runs a celiac/gluten-free support group at St. Francis Hospital in Charleston.